We are pleased to invite you to the 3rd Annual Colorado Speech-Language-Hearing Association (CSHA) Fall Conference! This two-day event will include many excellent continuing education opportunities for Colorado professionals working in school, medical or private practice settings. The Conference will be held in Greenwood Village, Colorado, on Friday, October 4 and Saturday, October 5. In acknowledgement of the collaboration needed within our fields to advocate for our clients, our colleagues and our profession, the theme of this year's Conference is, Connections in Communication.

Our annual Conference is just one of the ways that CSHA provides continuing education opportunities to its members. CSHA membership dues ensure that events like this can continue to be offered and that CSHA members receive a discount on registration.

Not a member of CSHA? Consider renewing your membership or joining CSHA to receive the registration discount. We value your membership support!

This year, we are featuring a variety of exceptional presentations in topics relating to our field. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn about the latest research, enhance current skills and gain practical solutions to issues encountered in clinical practice. All of our presenters and their session titles are listed within the program. Below are just a few of our highlighted speakers:

- Lyn Turkstra will present Acquired Brain Injury in Adults and Adolescents
- James Coyle will present Ventilation, Respiration, Pneumonia and Cough: What Does it All Mean and Pulmonary Disease, Cough and Swallowing: Dysphagia Treatment: Using Evidence to Make Clinical Decisions
- Kathryn Hardin will present Right After Lunch: Right Hemisphere Disorder – Overlooked and Undertreated
- Theresa Snelling will present Tonsil/Adenoid Issues: Hyponasality vs. Hypernasality-Differential Diagnosis and Treatment
- Patty Walton will present Rethinking Stuttering Therapy
- Laura Smith and Amy Graham will present Using Principles of Motor Learning for Treating Childhood Apraxia of Speech and Diagnosing Childhood Apraxia of Speech and New Genetic Findings

The CSHA Fall Conference will also include a select call for papers and poster presentations, exhibitors and a CSHA membership meeting. Look for more information on the CSHA website www.cshassoc.org.

Sincerely,

Emilie Straka

Vice President Education-Elect

Join CSHA Today!

In addition to inviting you to attend our Annual Conference this fall, we want to ask you to consider joining CSHA. We are only as powerful as our collective voice. Decisions on many national speech-language pathology and audiology issues are being made at the state level, and membership in CSHA directly benefits the advancement of our professions in the state of Colorado. The key goals of CSHA are the advancement of education, advocacy and member communication amongst speech-language pathologists and audiologists in the state of Colorado. Here are some current highlights:

Education – Every year, we host a fall Conference and CSHA members receive a discounted rate. Additionally, members also have access to a growing list of online CE webinar opportunities at a reduced rate. For more information, visit <http://www.cshassoc.org/webinars/>.

Advocacy – CSHA's lobbyist continues to be tremendously successful in advocating for issues that significantly impact Colorado speech-language pathologists and audiologists. We are currently exploring the option of participating in an interstate licensure compact which will significantly benefit many speech-language pathologists (SLPs) who have an active license beyond their home state (e.g. travelers, telepractice, SLPs living near a state border.) Additionally, we continue to push for DORA requirements that mirror ASHA rather than separate continuing education requirements at a different renewal cycle. Lobbyist services are expensive but essential to keeping our certification, making membership vital in these important efforts. We also continue to have a loud voice in state government discussions regarding Medicaid, telepractice, hearing screenings and education. This can only continue with your support.

Communication – CSHA provides timely updates to members with emails and newsletters as well as via our website. This year, that has included updates about changes to Medicaid PARs, Medicare MIP payments and new ASHA continuing education requirements.

Please consider joining CSHA! For more information and to complete your membership application, please go to www.cshassoc.org.

Thank you for your consideration.

Kathleen Mettel

CSHA Vice President of Membership

James Coyle, PhD, CCC-SLP, BCS-S, is a professor of communication science disorders and otolaryngology at the University of Pittsburgh where he co-developed the department's clinical doctorate program in medical speech-language pathology (SLP). He teaches undergraduate, master's and doctoral SLP students both in the classrooms and clinics through his active caseload at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, where he also conducts dysphagia research. He teaches nationally and internationally about the medical aspects of the profession. He is a board certified specialist in swallowing disorders and an ASHA Fellow.

Amy Graham, MA, CCC-SLP, has been a speech-language pathologist for 20 years and is the owner of Graham Speech Therapy, a private practice in Colorado Springs specializing in speech sound disorders. She is listed on the Apraxia Kids Directory of Speech-Language Pathologists with expertise in apraxia. She has worked in a variety of settings, from numerous public and charter schools, acute care/rehabilitation hospitals, an audiology clinic and now private practice. She is committed to raising awareness about childhood apraxia of speech and supporting and equipping SLPs to provide evidence-based therapy through her social media accounts on Instagram and Facebook.

Kathryn Hardin, MA, CCC-SLP, is an assistant professor at the University of Colorado-School of Medicine, Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. Her clinical work is at the Marcus Institute for Brain Health, where she works with individuals who have persistent symptoms associated with mild-moderate traumatic brain injury (TBI). She is certified by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association and is a certified brain injury specialist trainer from the Academy of Brain Injury Specialists. She is a licensed speech-language pathologist (SLP) in Colorado and has been a clinician in neurotrauma for nearly 15 years.

Rachel Johnson, MS, CCC-SLP, is a speech-language pathologist specializing in the treatment of Parkinson's disease and neurological conditions. In 2008, she graduated from the University of Wisconsin Eau Claire and began working with adults in a hospital setting. She took a position at a new satellite hospital in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin area which grew her interest in evaluating and treating individuals with Parkinson's disease. She helped develop the first YMCA Parkinson's disease exercise class and social communication class. In 2016, Ms. Johnson transitioned into private practice. Currently, she has established several LOUD Crowd groups that meet weekly and speaks at many Parkinson's disease support groups across the area. She enjoys spreading the word that laughter is medicine. She has certifications in LSVT LOUD, LSVT for Life, Parkinson's Voice Project (SPEAK OUT) and group mediation training.

Laura Smith, MA, CCC-SLP, is Apraxia Kids certified for advanced training and clinical expertise in childhood apraxia of speech (CAS), has completed the PROMPT Level 1 training and the Kaufman Speech to Language Protocol (K-SLP). She has lectured throughout the United States on CAS and related issues. Ms. Smith is committed to raising and spreading CAS awareness following her own daughter's diagnosis of CAS and dyspraxia. She is the apraxia walk coordinator for Denver, and writes for various publications including the ASHA wire blog, The Mighty, and on a website she manages, slpmommyofapraxia.com. In 2016, she was awarded ASHA's media award for garnering national media attention around apraxia detailing her connection with Ultimate Fighting Championship (UFC) fighter Ronda Rousey, and also received ASHA's ACE award for her continuing education, specifically in the area of childhood motor speech disorders.

Lyn Turkstra, PhD, CCC-SLP, BC-ANCCS, is a professor at McMaster University, assistant dean for speech-language pathology and faculty in the McMaster Neuroscience Graduate Program. Dr. Turkstra has published extensively on cognitive and communication function after traumatic brain injury (TBI), and is co-author of the 2011 text, Optimizing Cognitive Rehabilitation, with Dr. McKay Sohlberg. Dr. Turkstra was a member of the INCOG practice guidelines committee for traumatic brain injury rehabilitation, funded by the Ontario Neurotrauma Foundation and Monash University, and is a consultant to the Veterans Health System and Department of Defense for clinical practice guidelines in mild TBI. She lectures nationally and internationally on development of evidence-informed models of cognitive rehabilitation for adolescents and adults with acquired brain injury in acute, sub-acute and long-term care settings.

Karen Vizyak, MS, MSPT, earned her master's degree in physical therapy at Texas Woman's University and has practiced physical therapy since 1995. She has worked primarily in outpatient and pediatric settings and became director of physical medicine at Platte Valley Medical Center in 2014. She earned her Pilates certification and started teaching Pilates in 2007. She became a registered yoga teacher in 2010, then trained to become Level II certified to teach adaptive yoga through Mind Body Solutions in 2011. Through the Platte Valley Foundation, she brought Matthew Sanford, founder of Mind Body Solutions to the hospital, assisting him in two annual workshops to train clinical staff on integrating the Mind Body approach into health care. Since then, she has developed a hospital Mind Body Team that provides additional training and is in the process of developing a Mind Body research project involving total knee replacement patients. In addition, she teaches weekly yoga classes at Platte Valley and adaptive yoga to seniors through the hospital's community outreach program. She is an active member of the American Physical Therapy Association.

Patty Walton, MA, CCC-SLP, BCS-F, graduated from the University of Colorado at Boulder with a master's degree in speech-language pathology in 1985. She is a board certified specialist in fluency. She is the owner of the Center for Stuttering Therapy in Denver. In addition to her clinical practice, she is adjunct faculty at the University of Northern Colorado and clinical faculty at the University of Colorado at Boulder where she teaches graduate courses in fluency and is a clinical educator providing training and supervision for diagnostic and clinical practicums focused in fluency disorders. Ms. Walton co-authored Fun With Fluency for the Young Child with Mary Wallace, in 1998, and authored Fun with Fluency for the School Age Child in 2013. She has presented extensively at the local, state, national and international levels on topics related to fluency disorders. She is a board member of The American Board of Fluency and Fluency Disorders.

Following sessions on Friday, join your fellow colleagues for happy hour at the Hub Bar.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Denver has 300 days of sunshine a year.
- Most cities graciously accept an invitation to host the Olympics, but Denver delightfully declined the honor. Concerns over pollution and a population boom led to the city voting against hosting the 1976 Winter Olympics, the only city to turn down a chance to host this esteemed event.
- Denver citizen Louis E. Ballast, owner of the Humpty-Dumpty Barrel Drive-In, who trademarked the cheeseburger in 1935!
- The first permanent structure in Denver was not a hospital, bank or house—it was a saloon.
- In 1902, the police at Denver Union Station started enforcing a “no kissing” rule on platforms because it slowed down the trains.
- Denver’s nicknamed the Mile High City because it sits at an elevation of exactly one mile, or 5,280 feet.
- Elvis Presley once flew in his private jet from Memphis to Denver’s Stapleton Airport just for a sandwich. He ordered 22 Fool’s Gold Loafs, a sandwich containing a jar of peanut butter, a jar of grape jelly and one pound of bacon, from the Colorado Gold Mine Company Steakhouse for him and his friends. They dined on the sandwiches with champagne and then returned home.
